

paper, and will not do so until Senator Hays of Maine, who has been ill, is able to return to the committee. It is practically settled that the duty on print paper, which is now $5 a ton, and which was reduced to $3 by the House, will be increased to $4 by the Senate committee. The provision in regard to free wood pulp will stand.

Tax on Corporations.
Unless a further postponement is regarded as desirable, the Finance Committee on next Friday will offer an amendment for a tax of a certain proportion on corporate incomes as a substitute for the pending individual income tax amendment, which is supported by the Democrats and the radical Republicans. In just what form the amendment will be drafted has not been determined, but the indications are that it will provide for a tax on corporate incomes available for the purpose of paying dividends. The Senate leaders are now inclined toward the proposition as a means of compromising with their Republican associates who favor the imposition of an income tax.

There seems to have been considerable misapprehension among Senators as to what was proposed by President Taft as a way of increasing the government's revenues without resorting to the expedient of levying a tax on individual incomes. In discussing the matter among themselves earlier in the week, Republican Senators were inclined to believe that Mr. Taft favored a tax on dividends paid by corporations to their stockholders. What Mr. Taft had in mind, however, according to the present understanding, was a tax on the income of corporations out of which dividends could be paid. The matter of taxing the net earnings of corporations, which is regarded by some Senators as amounting practically to dividing corporate incomes available for dividends among the stockholders, among Republican Senators, but did not meet with any enthusiastic reception, and was virtually abandoned.

Now, however, the situation has changed to such an extent that the probability is that the substitute to be offered by the Finance Committee, representing Republican regulars, will provide for a tax on the funds of corporations which could, or would be used in paying dividends.

Believe It Will Pass.
In favor of the principle of an income tax, President Taft is doubtful of the probability of its passage. The Senate, however, is inclined to believe that the Federal Constitution had been amended so as to overcome the objections of the United States Supreme Court in the test case arising under the income tax provision of the German-Wilson tariff law. For this reason, it is believed that the income tax amendment into the pending tariff bill.

He is reported as believing that a tax on the incomes of corporations would be a much simpler and more practicable and reliable method of adding to the revenues of the government, and it is understood that he has given assurances to leading Representatives of his party in Congress that should they deem it necessary he will send to the Senate and the House a special message intended to show the advantage of such a tax over a tax on individual incomes. The Republican regulars are inclined to be optimistic over the outcome of the struggle in the knowledge that the President will assist them in the effort to sidetrack the pending income tax amendment.

The regulars believe that when the time comes for a vote the Finance Committee substitute will have enough friends among those Republicans who have been inclined toward an income tax to enable them to put through the substitute by a safe majority.

S.S.S. NATURE'S TONIC
The very great majority of persons need a tonic in the Spring or early Summer. The system undergoes a change at this season and the entire physical machinery is disturbed. The general bodily weakness, a tired, worn-out feeling, holds appetite poor digestion, a half sick feeling and a general run-down condition of the system, show that the blood is weak, anemic, and a blood purifying tonic is needed to build up the deranged system and enrich the blood. The use of S.S.S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the long, hot Summer. Many people have put off using a tonic until the system became so weakened and depleted it could not successfully throw off disease germs, and have paid for the neglect with a spell of fever, malaria or some other debilitating sickness. S.S.S. is Nature's ideal tonic. It is a composition of the extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks which science and experience have proven are best fitted for a tonic to the human system. It contains no minerals of any kind and is therefore perfectly safe for persons of any age. S.S.S. tones up the stomach and digestion, rids the system of that tired, worn-out feeling, and imparts vigor and strength to every part of the body. It purifies and enriches the blood, stimulates the secretory and excretory matters to better action, quiets the overstrained nerves, and makes one feel better in every way.

Rescue of 400 People Another Great Triumph for Wireless Telegraphy.

Big Ship Struck Sunk Rock.

PONTA DELGADA, AZORES, June 12.—The rescue of the passengers and crew of the Cunard line steamer Slavonia, totally wrecked off the island of Flores, while bound from New York for Mediterranean ports, was another great triumph for wireless telegraphy.

The operator in charge of the wireless apparatus on the steamer Princess Irene, who assisted in the work of rescue, telegraphed that at noon on Thursday he received "C. D. Q." the signal of distress, when the Princess Irene was 180 miles from the place where the Slavonia had stranded.

The rescue ship reached the Slavonia late at night, and found her on rocks two miles south of Flores. Arrangements were immediately made for the transfer of passengers, and this work occupied the rest of the night. The task was accomplished with a single accident to either the rescuers or the rescued.

The Slavonia's passengers were apparently mighty glad to abandon her, as she was lying in a bad position and a nasty sea was running. The next morning the Princess Irene left the scene of the wreck for Gibraltar. At that time the Slavonia was full of water up to her hatches. It was impossible for the crew to remain longer by the ship, and orders were given for them to leave her. They went ashore in their own boats at 10 o'clock on Friday morning.

The Slavonia is a total loss. Salvage is impossible.

Struck Sunk Rock.
The steamer went ashore late on Wednesday night. She was proceeding at her usual speed when she struck a sunken rock, which is said not to be marked on the charts. An immense hole was ripped in her bottom, and the sea rushed in. She almost immediately tilted, but was prevented from sinking by the fact that her hull was resting on the rock. There was great excitement among the passengers, and the officers had much difficulty in restraining them, especially the Irish, who were shouting they were at the end of the world.

There was two miles distant from the place where the accident occurred and the Slavonia's boats were made ready to transfer the passengers if the steamer showed any signs of breaking up. As she held well together the passengers became calmer, and waited anxiously for a response to the wireless call for help which was being continually sent by the Slavonia's operator. Replies were received from the Princess Irene and the Batavia shortly after noon on Thursday, but it was twenty-four hours after the Slavonia's call for assistance before help reached her. It was the news that help was near that induced the captain to keep the passengers aboard.

Some Slightly Injured.
GIBRALTAR, June 12.—The agents of the steamer Slavonia have received a dispatch confirming the news that all the passengers were saved. Several of them, however, were slightly injured, according to this dispatch while being transferred to the other liners. The Princess Irene is expected to reach here on Monday.

Cablegrams received here early yesterday by S. H. Bowman brought the comforting news to relatives that all Richmond passengers aboard the Slavonia had been transferred to the Princess Irene. The local party consisted of Rev. M. Colgate Dougherty, Mrs. T. W. Wood, Miss T. S. Donnellan, Mrs. M. C. Eastwood, Miss Martha Robinson and Mrs. W. G. Vaughan, the latter of Portsmouth.

News of Manchester

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch.
No. 1102 Hull Street.

Consolidation of Richmond and Manchester has now attained such a point as to make it the most important and interesting question occupying the attention of the people, especially on this side of the river. The first real step toward making the two cities one will be taken Tuesday night, when the special committee from the Council will convene and draft a preliminary agreement, which will be submitted to the Richmond committee for consideration.

At the same time residents of Manchester are invited to appear before the committee and argue the advantages or disadvantages of the union. Each side is confident of winning, and the forces seem to be at this time rather evenly divided. A long session and much talk is expected. The trend of the speeches and the size of the crowd will indicate to a large extent the attitude of the local voters when the matter is to be settled by an election. The report to be passed by this committee will be submitted to the joint committee of Richmond and Manchester, which has been called to meet in the Richmond City Hall next Friday at 8 P. M.

Old Citizen Dies.
Augustus Winfree, one of Chesterfield's most prosperous farmers and lumbermen, died Friday at his home in the county. He was eighty years of age. Up to a few days before his death he was apparently as strong and vigorous as he had been for years. His sudden death was due to his extreme age.

Mr. Winfree was one of the few remaining veterans of the Mexican War. He was also a veteran of the Civil War. He fought through both conflicts, having been wounded in each. On account of his feebleness he was unable to attend the recent Confederate Reunion at Memphis. This is the only gathering of Confederate veterans that he has missed since the organization of that body.

He was a widower, Mrs. Winfree having died some years ago. He leaves two daughters—Mrs. Valentine Stein of Forest Hill Park, and Mrs. John W. Jones, of Swanboro—and two sons—Reuben Winfree and John W. Winfree. The funeral will take place this morning at 11 o'clock from his home near Chester. He was a member of several fraternal organizations, all of which will send delegations to the funeral.

Must Clean Up.
Many notices were sent out from police headquarters yesterday morning by order of Health Officer Laporte, warning a number of citizens of the unsanitary condition of their premises, which have been inspected by members of the department.

According to the regulations of the Health Department, all waterways and sewers must be kept open and refuse removed within the time limits. This warning is to put violators on their guard. If it is disregarded it will be necessary for the officers to take the matter of sanitation up in the manner prescribed by law. They are determined that the requirements in this respect shall be observed.

SERMON COST HIM A PULPIT
Pastor's Memorial Day Views Said to Have Caused Dismissal.

COLUMBUS, KAN., June 12.—The congregation of the Baptist Church in Columbus has voted almost unanimously to discontinue the services of Rev. Thurston S. Allen as pastor. An alleged reason is that church finances have been running behind, but it is an open secret that the direct reason for the retirement of the minister was his Memorial Day sermon.

Mr. Allen, in his customary remarks, declared himself emphatically out of sympathy with the purpose of the observance. In effect he said it is a desecration of the Sabbath and that the observance of the day ought to be abolished. The sermon was delivered at the Memorial Day service, before 500 persons. Many Union veterans were present as well as a number of former Confederate soldiers.
